11:30am - 1:00pm - Travel time, lunch, and dropcarding.

We suggest eating at Reading Terminal Market (51 North 12th Street) which is a 5 minute walk from the Planned Parenthood. There are a variety of options and price levels, as it is a very bustling venue full of folks, prime for seeding. (dropcarding, and for IRBC members attending, literature will be provided free of charge, see Liz for a stack.)

This is also within a 15 minute walk of Independence Hall (150 South Independence Mall West.)

1:00pm - 3:00pm - Meet your group at designated intersection near Independence Mall; we will be doing a Gideon effect across historic Philly in the hopes of catching tourists etc. We will surround Independence Mall, and areas, moving to a new intersection every hour, giving the illusion of being all over the city, engaging passersby. Feel free to use signs, amps, literature, etc.

3:30pm - head back to vehicles, stash signs and drive to 30th street station. Alternatively, take a train ($3 per person)

4:00pm - Train station seeding. 30th Street Station.

7:00pm - Once the game has started, and fans are settled in, we can go get dinner as a group. Moms can go back to the hotel with littles, and the rest of the adults can go back to the game for the leaving crowd, if they're comfortable. A lot of them may be inebriated, and possibly violent, Philly is known for this. So, this second part may have to be changed. We may have to pick another venue for late night agitation, if anyone wishes to make suggestions, we'll take them!
